

DISCONTINUED BRAZED PUMP REPAIR KIT

In 1992, Server Products developed an alternative to the brazed-style stainless steel pump, and by 1993 completely transitioned to the production of our current stainless steel pumps. With that change, the brazed pump was discontinued from our product line 23 years ago.

Effective March 1, 2017, or earlier if remaining inventory is depleted, the repair kit (p/n 82046) for the brazed-style pumps will be discontinued. If you are currently using a brazed pump and should need parts, we recommend purchasing the current version of your existing pump part number.

The current design that replaced the brazed pump is easier to use, clean and maintain, with fewer parts. The pumps are still constructed of stainless steel, made in the USA and NSF listed.

Please contact Customer Service at spsales@server-products.com with any questions or concerns, and we would be happy to guide you in selecting an alternative.
